EXIT. THE G. I. P. RY., COMPANY.

Mr. S. H. Jabhwala writes:—

Two years ago the Government of India through the Legislative Assembly appointed a Committee of Inquiry to investigate the question of transference of Company-managed Railways to the State. With few exceptions, notably of men like Sir D. E. Watcha, the Committee arrived at the definite position that the transference proposed should be brought about gradually but surely. Accordingly the E. I. Railway and G. I. P. Railway were proposed to be transferred to State management on the termination of their contract. The E. I. Railway Company went under the control of the Government at the commencement of the current year and the G. I. P. has followed suit on 1st of July.

The above company was projected in the year 1844. In those days it was reckoned possible by the promoters of the scheme that the shares of the company would be largely disposed of among the Indians, as the Indians were keen on steam facilities being established in India for the extension of trade. But in his calculation both the Government of the East India Company and British business men who were associated with Indians misjudged the ambitions and desires of the Indian potentates. Bombay that was principally expected to largely finance the great industrial engineering effort was most active and keen on accumulating large gains by speculating on the shifting prospects of the American Civil War.

In 1850 the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, the Honourable Mr. Willoughby was invited by the Board of Directors of the Company to lay the foundation of the what was there after going to be one of the most masterly engineering feats of the British Empire. The rude old Rockey of the day pulled open wagons in those days from Bori Bunder now styled Victoria Terminus to the distance of 20 miles to the modern Thana. The first engine was driven by Lord Elphinstone, the Governor of Bombay, in 1853. Amidst the great eclat of the East India Company and the wondering population of the town of Bombay.

Railway shares had to be allotted so as to secure sufficient capital for the promotion of the business but as stated above Indian bankers, financiers and investors in general wanted to be rich at a single stroke by plunging into the mad fen of the share mania of the day under the wild guidence of the doyen of the share Market of the day Premchand Raichand. No one cared to look at the Railway Company's scrips but every one undertook to launch in the mad whirlpool of the guilt edge scrips of cotton, opium, jute and the well known Back-Bay Reclamation Scheme which was just then promoted under the auspices of the Government and considered to be a most attractive scheme for investors.

All the same there were among the European purchasers of the G. I. P. Ry. shares a few foresighted Indian merchants who encouraged the Railway scheme by purchasing a large number of shares, amongst whom were the family of the Shankar Sheth and the well known Parsee public man Framji Cawasji Banaji to whom Bombay owes the beginning of its public life. Even to-day the figures of the heads of some of these pioneers are seen carved on the outside walls of the Victoria Treminus Station. In the published list to be found in the records of the Company the name of Framji Cawasji Banaji appears to be one of the foremost to encourage the Railway enterprise.

But the number those who invested in the railway shares which would at the most yield a very low rate of interest though a steady one was indeed limited. Thus a large number of share were distributed among capitalists in England as a result of an appeal made by the Directors of the East Indian Company and the G. I. P. Railway Board to the public oif Britain in which they emphasised the idea that the company would find work in India for those Europeans and their sons who might like to proceed to India in search of employment. This was encouragement to rich property-holders to purchase shares. To-day, it is understood that there is no Indian capital invested in the management of the company.

The Anglo-Indian lad had, moreover, to pioneer the construction work just as his father had to finance it. Great risk was undergone by him in every direction; but his reward was ample. But the poor labourer who dug the company's querries, the mason who built its tunnels and the carpenter and the blacksmith who prepared its bridges not yet neglected in its service.

Sir Bartle Frere a past Governor of Bombay gave the company the proud title of "Primus in Indis." It is upto the new administration that will take over charge from the hands of the old company to give relief and satisfaction to the much-distressed lower ranks of the working staff who have been the main prop and pillar of the Company for the last 72 years ever since its inception.

BY CENTRE-HALF.

The B. B. R. A. showed that their improvement was steadily increasing by following up their success against the Details, by drawing with the Bombay Gymkhana. It was the best game of the season and if anything, the Gunners were the better side. Mulla was missed in the R. A. forward line but the others did quite well especially Ford who was always dangerous. Lindsay was a good danger and made no mistakes, his kicking being hard and accurate. The Gymkhana forwards did not have the assistance of Lindop and Etherington and this made a material difference. The only one to play his usual game was Innes who was always sending in good centres. The halves have played better but Terry was the redeeming feature of the defence though Nichol with a large sprinkling of "goalie's luck" put up a useful performance.

But success cannot be perpetual and the Gunners meet their Waterloo in the West Yorks who beat them to the tune of 4 goals This was a match in which the Yorks did full justice to themselves as League champions, their combination and shooting being really good considering that the ground was sodden. The veteran Everard was tower of strength impregnable to attack. He has a happy knack of being in the right place at the right moment, a fact which assists him in reserving his energy. Pulston of the second team figured well in as centre forward but it would not be bad idea to move McHale to that position which would bring about a good combination with Godley another dangerous forward. He it was who scored two goals for the Yorks in smart fashion while Worton on the wiong showed inotiative in swerving into an opening and scoring with a splendid cross drive. It struck the further shot before entering the net, a shot which left so accomplished a goal-keeper as Lynn helpless. Th fact that Rhodes and Brown make up the defence eliminates anxiety in the minds of the halves who have no need to fall back, too far, in support.

The R. A. continue winning successive games. In beating the Y.M.C.A. they should have scored more than two goals, but Briefly th Young Men's Custodian played a great game and saved his side from a bigger defeat. The gunners thus improve their chances and if they can beat the Yorks in the replay they will very likely head the list at the end of the season. Their tactics form a contrast with those of their great rivals, for whereas the latter excel at headwork, the gunners prefer keeping the ball on the ground. In Davies they have a man who can always be relied on to score given the slightest opportunity. Throne though not very speedy makes up with his deadly accuracy in landing the ball in front of the goal.

Many people wonder when the Y. M.C.A. are going to decide definitely on a particular team. There is a constant chopping and changing in both teams which has an adverse effect upon any understanding between the units which comprise them. Their new acquisition in the defence is Laughland who played for the Bombay Battalion, A.F.I. in the eliminating competition. Though he put in such a good game football enthusiasts would have liked him to "stock to" his original team, even though it only figured in the junior division. Personally I do not think that McKillop is good enough for the first division though he would be an asset to the "B" team. His lack of speed goes against him and when he is pitted against men like Davies and Ford he is hoplessly at sea. Hayes-Hoare would fit in better in a position which he filled so well.

The Army Details were able to register their first victory when they defeated the G. I. P. in the last minute of the match. Their half backs showed better form but the backs, as usual, were shaky.

In the second division the Y.M.C.A. broke their long line of defeats by winning against the Colaba United by the odd goal in five. The latter made amends for their defeat by winning aganst the G.I.P. game in which they showed themselves to be a very clever team. The Gym are deteriorating for they could do no more than draw with the Police after having the major portion of the exchanges. The West Yorks are not so good as they were last season. This is mainly due to the light manner in which the forwards treat the game, being perfectly satisfied in baiting opposing defences without regard to increasing the score. Their half backs are about as fine a lot as can be found "Ginger" Boyne being an able leader.

HIGH COURT.

MR. SHAMDASANI AGAIN.

TATA BANK TO GIVE SECURITY FOR COSTS.

P. D. Shamdasani ..... Petitioner.

vs.

The Tata Industrial Bank and others. ..... Respondents.

(Before the Hon. Chief Justice Sir Norman Macleod and Mr. Justice Coyaji.)

This was a rule nisi taken out by the petitioner calling upon the respondents to show cause why the execution of the decree in respect of costs relating to his suit challenging the amalgamation of the Tata and Central Banks should not be stayed.

Mr. Shamdasani appeared in person, while the Advocate-General appeared for the respondents.

Mr. Shamdasani, in support of the rule, referred to his affidavit in course of which he had stated that he had filed a suit against the respondents for a declaration that he was denied the right of speech at a meeting of the shareholders of the Tata Industrial Bank held on 19th July 1923, and for a further declaration to the effect that all the proceedings thereat were consequently null and void. The suit was heard by Mr Justice Pratt who dismissed it. The petitioner then appealed to the Appellate Court. In this Court, he succeeded on two issues, in respect of which, he contended, he was entitled to costs. The Appellate Court had held that the petitioner was denied the right of speech and that he was entitled to move an amendment to a special resolution. But the consequential relief sought for having not been granted, the petitioner appealed to the Privy Council. The appeal was admitted, and the necessary certificate in that behalf had been granted by this Court.

WHY SECURITY WAS WANTED.

Continuing, the petitioner said that he had already offered to pay the costs, but he insisted that the respondents should give security for those costs. The latter, however, had refused to do so. The petitioner further contended that if he were forced to pay up the amount of the costs for which execution was to be levied, he would merely rank as an unsecured creditor of the respondents. For these reasons, he submitted that the respondents should be ordered to give security for the costs which he was prepared to pay.

The Advocate-General, on behalf of the respondents, said that his clients were prepared to furnish any security that the Court might direct.

Their Lordships, in the course of their judgment, observed that under Order 45, rule 13, sub-rule (1), notwithstanding the grant of a certificate for admission of any appeal the decree appealed from could be unconditionally executed, unless the Court otherwise directed; and under sub-rule (2), the Court might, if it thought fit on special cause shown by any party, exercise the alternative powers expressed in sub-rule (b) and (c). One of these powers was to allow the decree to be executed taking such security from the respondents as the Court thought fit for the due performance of any order which His Majesty-in-Council might make on the appeal. Their Lordships held that there was no particular reason in this case, why the decree of the High Court should not be executed. The respondents had offered to give security. Their Lordships therefore allowed the decree to be executed on security being given by the respondents to the satisfaction of the Prothonotary.

SUIT BY STEP-MOTHER AGAINST TIKAYAT MAHARAJ.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Mirza.)

vs.

Goswami Shri 108 Tikayat Shri Gordhanlalji Maharaj ..... Defendant.

The plaintiff's case was that prior to 1876 the plaintiff's husband Goswami Shri Girdharlalji was the Tikayat Maharaj of the Vaishnavas and as such was in charge of the Shrine of Shri Nathji at Nathdwara in Udaipur State.

In the year 1876 the said Girdharlalji was deported by the Maharaja of Udaipur from his territory and his son the defendant was raised to his father's gadi and put in charge of the said Shrine at Udaipur. After the said deportation which was held by this High Court to be valid as being an act of state, the said Girdharlalji settled down in Bombay and he was worshipped and recognised both in Bombay and elsewhere by the Vaishnavas as the Tikayat Maharaj.

The said Girdharlalji died in May 1903 possessed of considerable moveable and immoveable properties worth many lakhs of rupees and producing a very large income. He left him surviving two sons the defendant herein and one Goswami Shri Vallabhlaljee and two widows Maharani Vahuji and the plaintiff herein.

After the death of Girdharlalji the defendant filed two suits in this Court whereby he claimed all the properties dedicated to the Shrine of Shri Nathji and also claimed to be jointly entitled to any personal and private properties left by the said Girdharlalji subject to the maintenance of the plaintiff and the Maharani Vahuji.

The said two suits were compromised and a consent decree was taken on the 8th of December 1904 whereby the plaintiff was given Rs. 1,000 every two months for her maintenance.

In the year 1907 the plaintiff filed a suit in this Court to set aside the said consent decree on the ground that at the date of the consent decree she was a minor and was not properly represented by her guardian-ad-item. In the said suit a consent decree was again taken on 19th June 1912 whereby the former consent decree was varied by increasing the plaintiff's maintenance to Rs. 1,000 every month instead of every two months.

The plaintiff submitted that the said maintenance allowance of Rs. 1,000 per month was very inadequate for her expenses. As the widow of a Tikayat Maharaj she was looked upon among the Vaishnavas as a divinity and having regard to the great increase in prices since 1912 it was impossible for her to live suitably on the said Allowance. The plaintiff further stated that the properties in the hands of the defendant were of very large value and since 1912 had very much appreciated in value. The plaintiff therefore prayed that her maintenance might be increased to Rs. 5,000 per month. The said Maharani Vahuji and the said Vallabhlalji had died and the defendant was in sole possession of all the properties.

The defendant submitted that the suit was not maintainable in view of the fact that there was a consent decree in the previous suits and the said decree could not be varied without the consent of the defendant. The defendant stated that by the said consent decree the plaintiff got over and above the monthly payment of Rs. 1,000, ornaments, clothes and a house at Mathura and a right to take part in Shraadhas and Seva.

The defendant denied that the value of the properties in his hands had gone up to such an extent as to justify any increase of the monthly allowance.

The defendant therefore submitted that the suit should be dismissed with costs.

At an early stage of the proceedings the plaintiff took out a Chamber Summons for the examinations of certain witnesses on commission. At that time the counsel for the defendant contended that it was unnecessary to issue a commission then, as the defendant had a preliminary objection as to whether in view of the consent decree in the former suits the present suit was maintainable, and the defendant desired to have this point tried first as a preliminary issue.

Accordingly by the learned Chamber judge's order the suit was set down for trial of the preliminary issue.

Mr. M. A. Jinnah with Mr. Jayaker instructed by Messrs. Hiralal and Co. appeared for the plaintiff.

The Hon'ble the Advocate-General with Sir Chimanlal Setalvad and Mr. D. P. Kanga and Girdharlal appeared for the defendant.

The matter was argued at considerable length by counsel on both sides.

After hearing counsel his Lordship reserved judgment.

AMUSEMENTS.

PATHE.

The far North glamorous with odd types, adventurers, outcasts, gold diggers and men tired of living effete lives, is the setting for this outstanding picture 'Where the North Begins", a Warner Brothers classic of the screen, which will be shown at the Pathe Cinema this week.

The story deals with two men who fight to gain possession of a girl's heart. The one by true love and the other by guile and brute strength. For this reason Galloway hires a band of ruffians to become outlaws and do away with Gabriel Dupre, the lover of Felice McTavish.

Rin-tin-tin, the famous police dog is the pivot round which much of the tense action revolves. As a dog bred among wolves from puppy-hood, he comes on the scene in time to save Dupre, left for dead by the outlaws. He is also instrumental in saving the girl at a critical point and proves to Galloway that even a strong armed man must yield to superior brute strength.

EXCELSIOR.

"Disraeli" the film version of the celebrated stage success, will come as a welcome variation from the usual type of film seen in Bombay. The picture, which is at the Excelsior on Saturday night and all next week is the story of Disraeli's immortal "scoop" in the purchase of the Suez Canal.

George Arliss takes the title role in this first United Artists production.

EMPIRE.

Lovable Jackie Coogan, the most wonderful child actor of the day, appears in the film at the Empire Cinema starting to-morrow. "A Boy Flanders", as it is called, is founded on a story of Ouida, and is a delightfully screened picture of Flanders.

EMPRESS.

"The Thief of Bagdad" goes into its ninth week at the Empress Cinema next week with no signs of diminishing popularity.

GLOBE.

The Globe Cinema commenced their programme for week from yesterday on account of the Bakr-Id and they have a surprise production in "Omar the Tent Maker", a First National Attraction, which recalls to mind the fact that Omar Khayyam, the famous Persian poet wrote eleven hundred quartrians, only four hundred of which were translated by Edward Fitzgerald in the Rubaiyat, which is so familiar to all of us.

BOMBAY POLICE COURTS.

PATHANS BOUND OVER.

Before a bench of Honorary Magistrates at Girgaum consisting of Messrs. J. McClure and B. S. Turknud. (1) Tajmahomed Surki, (2) Khoda Rahimkhan and (3) Abdool Gaffoorkhan, Pathans were charged with disorderly behaviour in a public place.

The evidence showed that accused No. 1 stood for a long time in front of the hut of the first witness Ghela Dossa, a Municipal sweeper. The latter was sitting there with his wife. On his remonstrating with accused No. 1 who is a Pathan, he was struck by him. The witness thereupon ran to the corner of the street and complained to the Policeman who was on duty. The witness then returned to his hut followed by the Police Constable. When the witness returned to his hut accused No. 1 struck him with a whip as well as with a stick. The other two accused who are also Pathans rushed up and assaulted the persons who tried to rescue the first witness. All the accused then were arrested by the Police, and the injured sweeper was sent to the Hospital for treatment.

The accused pleaded not guilty and stated that they were attacked by the Bhangis by pelting stones at them and a free fight ensued between the Pathans and Bhangis. They called two witnesses to support their case.

The court remarked:—

"We have heard the evidence very exhaustively and the defence by Mr. Vijaykar and we are satisfied that the accused were disorderely in a public place and mercilessly assaulted the witness. This was done in the presence of the Police.

In meting out punishment to the accused we cannot overlook the fact that the accused who are Pathans used sticks without, in our opinion, any provocation.

We consider the accused No. 1 has taken a more leading part than Nos. 2 and 3. We, therefore, sentence him to pay a fine of Rs. 50 and Nos. 2 and 5 to a fine of Rs. 25 each.

We further consider that it is essential that the witnesses should be protected and we therefore order that all the accused should be bound over in the sum of Rs. 50 each to keep peace for six months."

OPIUM SMUGGLER CONVICTED.

At the Esplanade Police Court before Mr. S. S. Rangnekar, Chief Presidency Magistrate, Excise Inspector, N. N. Cama, charged Champalal Hukumchand with importing 16 lbs. 15 tolas of opium valued at Rs. 1,300 without a license.

The facts of the case were that in consequence of certain information received by Khan Sahab Cooverjee Dadabshaw, Chief Excise Inspector, a customer was sent to the accused at Masjid Bunder Station. There the accused handed over to the customer a railway receipt for the consignment of garlic booked to Wari Bunder from Shangarh. The consignment when taken delivery of was alleged to have contained opium. The accused was arrested and put up before the Magistrate.

The accused pleaded guilty and prayed for mercy.

His Worship convicted the accused and sentenced him to pay a fine of Rs. 500 or in default, four months rigorous imprisonment

CASE OF ALLEGED THEFT FAILS.

Judgment was delivered by the Chief Presidency Magistrate in the case in which three Irani Moghuls belonging to a gypsy tribe were charged with theft of diamonds belonging to Messrs. Dhanmull Chelaram, jewellers of Medows Street and with abetment. The accused persons were Nawab Ali Anzarali, Mahomed Baran and Aziz Imam Khan.

Mr R. P. Thanawallal prosecuted while the accused were undefended.

The prosecution alleged that the accused went into the complainant's show rooms at Medows Street and asked them to be shown some diamonds. After examining a number of diamonds, the accused left the shop without purchasing any article. Subsequent ly after their departure from the shop a packet of diamonds was found to be missing. The police were informed and the accused were arrested at Andheri where they were identified by the complainant.

The Magistrate after going through the evidence found that there was not sufficient evidence to convict the accused though the circumstances looked very suspicious and therefore disherged them.

RASH DRIVING CAUSES DEATH.

At about 11 p.m. on Tuesday a private victoria driven by Mohmed Sardar Ali was proceeding along Grant Road from the Grant Road railway station when near the Grant Road tram terminus a Hindu, named Nanu Daji, aged about 45 years was knocked down and run over by the victoria. The driver attempted to drive away, but he was chased and handed over to the police. Nanu was removed to the J. J. Hospital where he died on Wednesday afternoon, death being due to fracture of the skull.

At an inquest held by the Coroner the jury returned a verdict of death by the fracture of the skull as a result of his having been run over by a horse carriage driven by Mohmed Sardar Ali under such circumstances that his conduct amounted to causing death by a rash act not amounting to culpable homicide.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT STONE QUARRY.

About 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Ismail Rahim, mistry in the employ of Kondaji Bapuji was exploding a quarry at Bhoiwada without a license from the Commissioner of Police when a piece of stone weighing about 15 seers flew from the rock and fell at a distance of 600 feet, hitting one Vithal Babaji on his head. Vithal died on the spot, death being due to fracture of the skull.

At an inquest held by the Coroner the jury returned a verdict of death by fracture of the skull. The jury remarked that the suspected man Ismail Rahim was conducting the blasting operations in such a negligent manner that his conduct amounted to causing death by a negligent act not amounting to culpable homicide.

Ralli Bros. at Dana Bunder and cutting open a bag from the middle when a bag fell on his head from the top of the stack rendering him unconscious. He was removed to the J. J. Hospital where he died on the 1st instant. Medical evidence showed that the death was due to the fracture of the spine.

At an inquest held by the Coroner the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

MUSLIM COW-PROTECTIONIST.

Mr. Nazir Ahmed Razir, pleader, Sitapur, writes:—

I have been a supporter of cow protection for more than 16 years. My articles have appeared in numerous papers from 1909 to 1924.

The cow is the mainstay of Indian agriculture and is of vital necessity for the supply of milk without which we can not live. It is therefore a pity that the numerical strength of this useful animal is daily diminishing by the reckless and ruthless massacre for the sake of beef and hides.

The Islamic religion has not rendered cow-killing obligatory. It simply declares its flesh Halal, i.e. it is not in the category of the prohibited things. Our revered Prophet Mohammad has said that beef contains germs of disease. It is, therefore, evident that to insist upon the right of killing cows for beef is wrong. From economical and agricultural points of view this animal is the joint property of Hindus and Muslims both. It must, therefore, be the duty of both to exercise every effort for the protection of the cow irrespective of any friction between them. To kill a cow is neither religion nor sign of dignity of Islam.

To my Hindu brethren I may be allowed to say, How many of you are selling your animals openly to those who you know, are taking them to kill? You started several sabhas to attain cow-preservation but many failed on account of your not giving them pecuniary help. Should a Mohammedan support your ideas of Gaurakhsha you do not fully co-operate with him. Papers have been announcing repeatedly that I have composed a pamphlet on Gaurakhsha which is based on Islamic tenets and contains a good many irresistible arguments but I am informed from several quarters of India that you do not like to read it as it proceeded from a non-Hindu. Pity! But I am proud that I am a true Gau-Hitaishi and that my mission must succeed in the end. You must shake hands with your Muslim brethren and pave the way to a permanent union. Form an All-India cow-preservation League and improve the decaying condition of agriculture and prosperity of the mother-land.

I offer my services, should you like to accept them.

BABU ARABINDO.

FITTING SUCCESSOR TO DESHBANDHU

DR. MUNJE INTERVIEWED.

NAGPUR, June 29.

Interviewed by a representative of the Press Press of India, Dr Moonje said: Communalism is rampant in our political life. It is an aftermath of non-co-operation The one outstanding personality in whom the hopes of the people were centred was Deshbandhu Das, but his death leaves the nation leaderless. Mahatmaji is no political leader. There is great need for virile, inspiring leadership in the Congress. If the nation is again to be revitalised, I think that Babu Arobindo Ghosh would be a fitting successor to Deshbandhu Das. I would therefore respectfully appeal to all provincial Congress Committee to suggest only one name for the presidentship for the next Congress at Cawnpore namely that of Babu Arobindo Ghosh. I also appeal to Babu Arobindo Ghosh to leave his seclusion and resume his place in the leadership of the national movement.

Dr. Moonje also said that he had informed Dr. H. S. Gour by letter that the C. P. Swarajists di not intend to attend the voters' conference or all-parties conference if the intention was to commit the Swarajists to a policy of supporting a ministry. He had also informed Sir Harisingh that Swarajists in C. P. would be glad to co-operate in bringing about a union of all progressive sections on the Congress platform. In his letter Dr. Moonje further states that the action of Government in revoking the transferred subjects in Bengal inspite of the peace-gesture of Mr. Das at his Faridpur address is an affront to national honour which can be met only by the destruction of dyarchy in C. P. also. Dr. Moonje says that the C. P. Swarajists are not opposed to a revision of Swarajist policy on principle but the latest action of Government leaves no alternative to C. P. but to retaliate by persevering in the policy of no ministry.

COMMONWEALTH OF INDIA BILL.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas, President of the Bombay National Convention Samiti, continues his studies of the Commonwealth of India Bill and in his second discourse delivered at the offices of the Samiti, Fort, he made out an elaborate and convincing plea in favour of the measure and he impressed upon the audience the supreme urgency and vast importance of the Bill for the future welfare and prosperity of the country. Morally, materially, and economically, he said, India was impoverished; the numerous acts and measures of the bureaucracy had had incalculably deleterious effects upon the morals of the nation; the several policies of the Government in diverse directions, economic, financial, industrial, educational etc., were devised and consistantly pursued, not in the interests and advancement of India, but of a country situate 6,000 miles away; and the most tragic feature was that the people of this country had absolutely no part or lot in this unique scheme of things, and Government owed no responsibility to the people who were thus fleeced. Swaraj or Responsible Government alone would save India from this incubus of a foreign rule which had emasculated the nation and exploited the country in a heartless manner. The Commonwealth of India Bill rendered this irresponsible and arbitrary rule impossible and ensured to the country a perfect form of responsible Government directly answerable to the people a perfect form of responsible Government directly answerable to the people who would exercise their authority through their leagal elected representatives assembled n a Commonwealth Parliament, exercising their soveriegnty uncontrolled and unfettered.

FRIDAY, JULY 3 1925.

ID IN DELHI.

While Bombay celebrates the Bakri Id to-day, many other cities in the country, as will appear from telegrams which we publish elsewhere, observed the festival yesterday and, according to the latest news, the day passed without any untoward incident taking place anywhere. Even Delhi, to which the anxious thoughts of all patriotic Indians have been turned during the last few days, so far sends the same welcome tidings. It is a grim irony that we cannot celebrate our festivals without apprehensions of a breach of peace. This was not so in the past and, fortunately, it is not so even now in many parts of the country except where local fanatics and bigots, of their own accord or through the instigation of mischief-makers, inflame the communal passions and jealousies. In Delhi even if the bigots and fanatic do not seem to possess too great a sway for wiser counsels to prevail ultimately, some strange fatality has dogged the steps of those who have sought to bring about an amicable settlement of a dispute which, though contemptibly petty, has in it the potentiality of infinite mischief not merely in that city but, by its reaction, in other parts of the country as well. For what is the dispute? This that the Muslims insist on their right to lead cows for sacrifice through the Pahari Dhiraj route, which passes through a preponderatingly Hindu quarter of the town, while the Hindus demand that a direct alternative route should be used for the purpose. Several proposals of compromise have been made only to be rejected. At one time it was stated on behalf of the Muslims that if only the Hindus appealed for the change of the route, they would not insist on their right of leading cows for sacrifice through Pahari Dhiraj route. But the local Anjuman-ai-Islam subsequently refused to respond to the appeal of the Hindus in this respect. Later on a final attempt at settlement was thwarted, through an unfortunate misunderstanding, by Hindu members of the municipality rejecting a proposal for the erection of a slaughter-house on a site that would prevent the sacrificial cows being led through the disputed route. The result is that on the day of a Muslim festival the Hindus of Delhi have observed a Hartal and to-day the sacrificial cows will be led through the disputed route in an atmosphere surcharged with anxiety and to the accompaniment of elaborate police and military arrangements. Could there be a more humiliating spectacle for Nationalists to contemplate and could a true Muslim regard sacrifice offered in such circumstances as being consistent with the spirit of Islam? Those Muslims who insist on offering sacrifices in a manner that is calculated to wound the susceptibilities of their fellow-men are doing something that is un-Islamic. The Muslims of Nagpur, by observing the pact with Hindus, have shown a true understanding of the meaning of to-day's festival and, therefore, of their religion. We trust the example of Nagpur and the news of peaceful celebration of the Id in all other cities will have a beneficial effect in Delhi.

INSURANCE LEGISLATION.

It has now been generally recognised that in the economic slavery of India exploitation through insurance occupies no mean place. It has been estimated that the net tribute paid by India under this head every year is not less than five crores of rupees. The desirability of establishing businesses that will retain a portion of this money in this country was recognised early and it is significant that in the first boom many years ago a company was established under the auspices of Sir Pherozeshah Mehta as chairman. Subsequently many large organizations came into existence and those, who know the inside of things are aware that attempts are being made to discriminate against Indian concerns not only by British banks, but by organizations like the Imperial Bank of India, on whom for equal and fair treatment Indian insurance enterprise ought to have a legitimate claim. Instances have been known of neglect and of intolerant exclusion of some of these enterprises by other public bodies like municipalities, port authorities and railways. When Mr. Jamnadas Mehta gave notice of a resolution in the Assembly that all Government insurance work must be given to Indian companies only, his action reflected in a dim manner a reconstruction programme on lines familiar in other countries in the world. The British policy of free trade in India has been hitherto synonymous with extensive opportunities for British organizations to make money. Restriction on foreign insurance companies on the same basis as prevails, with slight individual variation, in France, Germany and the U. S. A., would have reduced the profits of British companies and was, therefore, not to be thought of. In order to keep the door open for English companies, India was exposed to exploitation by companies from other countries as well until a large number of foreign companies, some of them with very small capital, others with doubtful and unsound basis, began to do extensive work in different districts. We are not sure whether the bill which Government now wish to introduce in the Indian Legislative Assembly is not dictated in the interests of some of the larger British companies rather than prompted by the desire to establish the principle, on which the Indian public have insisted, viz., that Indian organizations should have the first claim on Indian insurance business and a great amount of vigilance, including heavy deposits not only initially but from the premium incomes until the claims are paid, should be imposed on foreign companies. We have looked into the bill in vain for this measure of restriction on alien activities. It is possible that the first effect of this legislation may be actually to check some of the smaller insurance companies, particularly in Madras, because the rates of deposit are absolute and uniform in all cases and are a mere flea-bite to larger companies. Indian insurance companies will usually seek investments in India and their assets will be in India. They do not want any compulsion on them to invest their assets in Indian Government securities The elusive factor is the foreign company, and we do not find anything in the bill, which will induce the foreign corporation to keep larger assets in India or any specified amounts or percentages in Indian Government paper.

Insurance companies, particularly life insurance companies, are instrumental in collecting a large number of individual small savings into a pool, and the premium income of life insurance companies serves in countries, whose economic organization is not messed up by unnatural cross canals, in the shape of activities of the foreign companies, to support not only the market for Government loans, municipal bonds and other guaranteed stock, but to provide a tributary stream of money which flows into the banks and through them fructifies trade and industry. In India it is deplorable that leading Indian firms serve as tax-gatherers to foreign organizations under the undignified name of agents and for a petty return to their pocket, which serves to reduce their establishment charges, turn themselves into sluices through which res[illegible], which should strengthen the Indian money market and reduce the charge borne by the productive sections in India, are drawn away by the foreigner. The present state of things is therefore, as much the result of weakness of public opinion as of the defective state of law, but the defect in law in this direction will not be put right by the bill, which has emerged at the hands of the Government. We trust when it comes before the Assembly, those, who understand the subject, will exert themselves in the select committee as well as in that assembly to see that no foreign companies work in India except under heavy licensing fees, fuller contribution to the income-tax of the country than they are making at present and a deposit of the portion of the premium income until the claim matures and compulsory investment of a certain percentage of their assets in Indian Government securities. The time has come to consider whether monopoly rate fixing, which involves a larger charge than is justified and should be allowed, and the influence of British Foreign Office Committees and of local insurance associations, which have hitherto tried to harass Indian companies and to exclude them wherever possible from reasonable co-operation, should not be broken up by the machinery of law. We do not condemn the legislation which has been proposed. It is necessary to provide for checking the small thief, but what we urge is that the larger and more refined art of plunder may also be brought under the supervision of law and if the foreign offices must continue their activities in India, they must be made to yield for Government finance both in revenue and loans as much as possible and for banks working in India in deposits and investments much more than they are doing at present. Competition in insurance business is practically extinct under the present organization and the advantage, therefore, of having a large number of companies does not compensate Indian business for the policy of open wound. In the meanwhile it is a misfortune of India that men, who are churning away all the butter, are turning round and asking why the residual water is thin and why India is getting poorer and whether the demand of an economic commission may not lead to a clearer understanding of the difficulties. If Government have accepted the problem of poverty for India as a serious one, then it is their duty also to stop the flow of funds in every shape and form from this country outside. The insurance drain is as serious as any that can be thought of and it is now for commercial bodies and the Assembly to show how in national interests this exploitation should be either stopped by law altogether or seriously curtailed.

Notes of the Day.

A Costly Superfluity.

While the Indians in South Africa are being humiliated and ousted, Lord Reading and Lord Birkenhead have been busy hatching a Public Services Commission. As we have observed before, we consider the Commission a costly superfluity so long as the power of hearing appeal from members of the All-India Services is not transferred to the Commission from the hands of the Secretary of State. The Joint Standing Committee has, indeed, expressed a hope that the rules made by the Secretary of State for the devolution of powers to the Public Services Commission will be referred to it since "the question of the final right of appeal against its decisions should not be approved by the Imperial Government until they have been exhaustively examined." This means that the Joint Standing Committee is being made to squash the recommendation of the Lee Commission that quasi-judicial powers over the the Services should be given to the Commission. Why then create a Commission at all? Cannot the present Staff Selection Board do?

Khaddar Sales in Bombay.

About two months ago Mahatmaji wrote in the "Navajivan" deploring the poor sale of khaddar in Bombay and asked if Bombay was sleeping. The local Khadi Bhandar, now conducted by the All-India Khadi Board, announces that during the last eleven months it sold khaddar worth only Rs. 1,50,000 while during the previous year the sales amounted to Rs. 2,17,000. This decline is much to be regretted We are aware that Bombay is not a good centre for the production of khaddar. We may even concede the difficulty of enlisting in this city a large number of self-spinning members. But for the consumption of khaddar there is a vast scope in Bombay, more than in any other city in India. The use of khaddar made by the poor villagers is the least that could be expected from dwellers in the city, on humanitarian if not on other grounds. More varieties of khaddar are now available than two or three years ago, even waterproof cloth for rain coats. The prices too have appreciably fallen as the monthly bulletins of the Khadi Bhalar show. To give further facilities to ladi lovers the Bhandar (Princess Street) has announced a special reduction of prices varying from 6¼ to 50 per cent. to be in force till the 28th instant Similar reduced rates have been announced by the Ujarath P. C. Khadi Depot, Kalbadevi. We trust the people of Bombay will fully avail themselves of the opportunity. If all the District Congress Committees and women's associations like the Rastriya Stree Sabha and the Hind Mahila Samaj make a vigorous joint effort and hawk khaddar from house to house Bombay may yet convince Gandhiji that she has risen from her slumber.

RANDOM JOTTINGS.

(BY L. G. K.)

Whenever there is a will, a real d[illegible] on the part of both sides to seek a[illegible] out of the communal difficulty, that is sure to be found. The latest ins[illegible] in support of this contention is D[illegible] For the last fortnight ugly rumours have been diligently transmitted across wires apparently for the despair of t[illegible] to whom pessimism in these comm[illegible] matters has become a force of habit, attitude of mind which colours all political outlook. Newspapers re[illegible] them, the head lines being thick or according to the varying temperamen[illegible] the editorial staff. Happily in quarters at least there is a determina[illegible] to see that these pinpricks which out into dangerous and ugly sores [illegible] cease. If only men like Maulana Mah[illegible] Ali on the one hand and Swami S[illegible] dhanand on the other will devote time and energy to nothing else for [illegible] years but getting over the feeling suspicion and distrust which has wo[illegible] its way into the heart of the edu[illegible] Hindus and Muslims in the Punjab U. P., we shall hear less of the bom[illegible] those who ridicule our efforts at sec[illegible] Swaraj, that the patrolling of L[illegible] streets by English Tommies gives us at least for the present, and is like[illegible] assure us law and order whatever ps[illegible] Swaraj our communal narrowness bring us in the near future. Real S[illegible] means real ability to keep peace wi[illegible] the intervention of the British batta[illegible] If Delhi can secure peace on days goondas in every community are in[illegible] to have it otherwise, and when security from disorder becomes po[illegible] because of the efforts of the leaders Delhi's citizens, why should not si[illegible] ictivity prevail elsewhere?

Conciliation-Boards.

In fact we must always fall in these matters on the oft old pro[illegible] of having in every big city where [illegible] munal squabbles have left unpleasant tory behind them, and are likely to [illegible] similar history, if unchecked, repres[illegible] tive committees whose only concern sh[illegible] be the promotion of good will amo[illegible] the various communities, and the pre[illegible] tion of communal bickerings with t[illegible] consequential tendency to the resort brickbats and lathies. It is no good ing the municipal boards to take up work. Such educative work, than even when done under the easiest co[illegible] tions, cannot be accomplished by men of a body who are usually supected having an axe to grind. This is a for the retired Government official, or educational worker, the rich city ban[illegible] of the social worker. Here is an ac[illegible] vity where the khaddar enthusiast, a[illegible] the most cautious moderate on the bu[illegible] nessman who takes care to impress up[illegible] you that he is not interested in polit[illegible] can all coalesce their efforts a eve[illegible] Indian town of importance, an say th[illegible] they want to specialize in at least [illegible] type of national work, the wo[illegible] of co[illegible] munal conciliation. We shall hear [illegible] then of Gulbarga and Kohat.

The Sangathan Movement.

This brings me naturally to the con[illegible] deration of the movement amongst Hind[illegible] for closer union. So deeply antagonis[illegible] in ritual and belief is one type of se[illegible] tarian Hinduism to another, tit to son[illegible] politically minded Hindus, the idea [illegible] unification of the conflicting sects. [illegible] hostility to some outside dange has [illegible] ways appeared alluring and irresistible. [illegible] am glad to find Swami Shraddanand h[illegible] now seen the mischief of alloing a[illegible] such idea to take deeper roo He h[illegible] publicly declared that he would like to [illegible] his work "of saving Aryan nature fro[illegible] the danger of annihilation" fro[illegible] a totall[illegible] different platform than that of the Hindu Maha Sabha or the Arya Samaj. One ca[illegible] easily understand how a genine an[illegible] experienced worker like the energetic an[illegible] matter-of-fact Swamiji has seen th[illegible] futility of expecting a quickening of pac[illegible] for the removal of untouchability if such work is to be done only through a body which has become by this time thoroughly doctrinaire and imbued with denite politi[illegible] cal bias like the Arya Samaj. Nor can it be done through the Hindu Maha[illegible] Sabha which depends upon the orthodox Hindu for a following. To real Sangathan, the latter will always offer a determined resistance. The demolition of stupid and unmeaning barriers between sect and sect is to him a Bolshevist operation which spells ruin to the autocracy of ritual. He can understand so-called sangathan having for its main object avoiding the danger of Hindu ranks becoming depleted through conversion. For Shraddhr he has a wholehearted contempt, with the removal of untouchability is a proceeding which appears to him in its very essence sinful. Of course lip sympathy is

SHANGHAI SITUATION

SETTLING DOWN

BOYCOTT MOVEMENT NOT WEAKENING.

SHANGHAI, July 2.

While the situation is settling down and the first flush of frenzied excitement has passed off, the boycott movement and shipping strike are not weakening and foreign shipping is still tied up.

The Memorial service held by the students yesterday to express sympathy with the relatives of those killed last month passed off without any more serious manifestation than re-echoes demanding "national rights."

The demonstration at Canton to protest against the recent firing there was poorly attended. Schools and colleges kept aloof. The National flag was not displayed, but the Red Flag was much in evidence.—Reuter

CHINESE TREATY POWERS.

SUGGESTION TO CONVOKE CONFERENCE.

LONDON, July 1.

Replying to Labourite suggestions in the House of Commons that Britain should convoke a conference of the Chinese Treaty Powers, including the Chinese, and discuss the whole question of the revision of extra-territorial Treaties. Mr. Chamberlain made it clear that Government was not only to consider such questions until China had established a government capable of restoring law and order and respect for the Treaties, but even a tariff conference under the Washington decisions could not be held under the circumstances in which it might be exposed to anti-foreign demonstrations.—Reuter.

U. S. AND CHINA.

QUESTION OF EXTRA-TERRITORIAL RIGHTS.

WASHINGTON, July 2.

It is understood that instructions have been given to Mr. John MacMurray, the new United States Minister in China to indicate the desire of the American Government that the whole question of extra-territorial rights in China should be considered at the earliest moment. It is pointed out in this connection that Government regardfavourably the early convening of an international commission for which the Washington Arms Conference had provided to study ways and means of supplementing the extra-territorial treaty rights in China with the Chinese judicial system to which matters involving the American nationals could be safely entrusted.

It is noteworthy that Mr. Chamberlain in the Commons yesterday, replying to a Labourite suggestion to submit to the League of Nations the question of extra-territorial agreements in China, said that Government believed the appointment of an international commission to enquire into the position would be more suitable than reference to the League of Nations.—Reuter's Special.

CALCUTTA'S HOMAGE.

LAST RITES IN HONOUR OF THE DEPARTED.

CALCUTTA, July 1.

To-day being the fifteenth day of the death of Mr. C. R Das, the "sradh" ceremony was performed by his son, at his house. From early morning people of all nationalities, creeds and colour began to flock to Bhowanipur House where Mr. C. R. Das used to live and which is going to be converted into a hospital for women. Over 20,000 people assembled to see the last rites performed in honour of the departed leader.

In the evening, about a dozen meetings were organised under the leadership of Mr. Gandhi and other prominent people of Calcutta.

TOWN HALL MEETING.

The Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan presided at the meeting in the Town Hall. Among those present were Sir H. Stephenson, the Maharaja of Nadia, Members of the Bengal Executive Council, the Maharaja of Natore, Mr. B. Chakravarty and Mr. Bipin Chandra Pal. A life size photo of Mr. C. R. Das was hung just behind the presidential chair.

Mr. Gandhi could not attend this meeting as he had to preside over a mass meeting at the maidan at the same time.

The Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan, in opening the proceedings, said:

"We are met here to mourn the loss of a brother and we have come to pay to his memory a homage sinking all political strifes and differences, forgetting everything but the remembrance of his towering personality, his forceful character, his unselfishness and his great sacrifice for his country and community in general. Let us for a moment leave aside all politics. We will find that in him there was much which we should emulate which we should practise and which we must leave as a rich heritage to those who will follow us."

Messages of condolence were read from Dr. Rabindranath Tagore and telegrams from Dr. P. C. Roy and Mr. A. K. Ghaznavi.

Mr. B. Chakravarti moved the following resolution of the meeting:

"This meeting of the citizens of Calcutta representing all parties, denominations and races places on record its deep grief over the premature death of Deshbandhu Chitta Ranjan Das and recalls with reverential gratitude his many noble qualities, his wonderful self-sacrifice, his boundless generosity, his courage in the face of difficulty and danger, his fairness towards opponents, his burning love of the country and his friendship and solicitude for the poor and the helpless. This meeting tenders its respectful condolences to the widow and family of the deceased patriot."

BRITISHER'S TRIBUTE.

Mr. Theo. H Thorne, seconding the resolution, said:

"We are met here this evening regardless of party or creed under the shadow of a great national bereavement to pay our tribute to the memory of Mr. C. R. Das. As a Britisher and as representing a small but growing minority of British public opinion in this country and on behalf of the British Labour Party I should like to pay a tribute to one of the most loyal souls, a generous friend and above all a fireless patriot. His memory will never die. His soul goes onward to its rest and well it has deserved it. We who are left behind must seek inspiration from his words and deeds and press ever onward to that goal which was nearest to his heart, the political freedom of this country. From his ashes may there arise the great edifice of honourable co-operation when you and we shall in honourable co-partnership work together for the greater glory of India and of our Empire. I repeat what Mahatma Gandhi has said:—"Deshbandhu is dead. Long live Deshbandhu," and I say in his leaving may India pass from weakness to strength, disunity to unity in the fulfilment of her great destiny."

Mr. B. C. Pal, in an impassioned speech, supported the resolution re-calling his association with the departed leader for the period of a quarter of a century. He bore testimony that during the last 50 years he had known all the leaders of the country, but never he had seen any Bengalee or Indian who had consecrated whatever he had for the motherland. Mr. Das was the one man who did that and he never did anything with half heart.

A GOD AMONG MEN.

Mr. Sen Gupta said:—

We meet here to-night in the gloom of an unspeakable calamity Deshbandhu Chitta Ranjan is dead. He who was our joy in sorrow, our pride in shame. He was not only a political leader but the kindest of friends ever ready and anxious to enter into the littlest personal troubles. I remember Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya telling me when I came out of the prison three years ago that the Deshbandhu had been passing sleepless nights on my account and been worrying himself incessently as to the ways and means of bringing about my release honourably to our cause. After all I was but one of a multitude of his followers who were and are in the same plight. I will not say any more about his love for his immediate disciples. What was the reason for that great multitude of people of all denominations and races who turned out to do homage to him on the day of his funeral? What is the reason for this great gathering this evening composed of all political parties and people who were opposed to him in public life? What is the reason for the great multitudes who have assembled this very minute not very far away from here? The answer is that the great man who has passed away made no distinction between man and man, between party and party and between friend and foe. He treated all alike, whether it was a poor Hindu in difficulties with marriageable daughters or a business man ruined by speculation or a student too poor to prosecute his studies or a promoter of some public work or a ruined political opponent. Chitta Ranjan was always giving money to all these with both hands ungrudgingly. His cherishing love for the soil of his country, his beauty of self-denial his desperate striving for freedom made him the idol of his people. Truly, he was a God among us men. Deshbandhu is not dead. He lives in the sacred immortality of our national remembrance. Let us show our topmost courage, brothers, in our topmost grief. The ghost of the departed hero intercedes with us all to unite."

Other speakers representing the different communities supported the resolution.

Mr. Shyam Sunder Chakarvarty, Sir P. C. Mitter, Mr. Hirendra Nath Datta, Dr. Moreno and Mr Muzibar Rahman further supported the resolution, which was carried, all standing.—Associated Press.

SUGGESTED EXPERIMENT ON BRITISH RLYS.

WORKMEN VS. STOCK HOLDERS

LONDON, July 2.

The companies' proposals which have emerged from the railway conferences comprise provisional experimental reductions for the year amounting to five per cent. and applicable to the directors fees and staff salaries and wages. The unions have hitherto declined to agree to these terms unless the reduction is extended to the stockholders which, it is pointed out, would necessitate complicated legislation unless the stockholders practically unanimously accepted the cut voluntarily.—Reuter's Special.

Among those who took part in the proceedings were Messrs. Yakub Hassan and Prakasam, Rao Bahadur O. Kandaswamy Chettiar and Mr. C. Gopal Menon.

SITUATION IN DELHI

CITY PRESENTS DESERTED APPEARANCE.

DELHI, July 2.

Up till 2 o'clock this afternoon, no disturbance of any kind has been reported and the morning Bakr-Id prayers and sacrifices passed off quietly. Elaborate police and military arrangements have been made and a squadron of the twentieth cavalry has been patrolling the city since morning. A small detachment of the second Devons of the Delhi garrison has been picketting the danger zone. Armed pickets supported by mounted and armed police continue to be posted at various points. Solitary armed policemen have been stationed on various housetops in Sadar Bazar and its vicinity in order to prevent mischief-makers from throwing brick bats which was the signal for last years disturbance. First class magistrates are on duty at Sadar Bazar police station, Pahari Dhiraj and at one or two other places for prompt action in an emergency. About twenty Hindu Jats and Abirs who came from the suburbs were arrested this morning under section 109 of the Criminal Procedure Code for failing to give a satisfactory explanation for their presence in Delhi. Strong police pickets have been posted at crossings and the outskirts of the city to prevent undesirable influx of people from outside. The deputy commissioner, the senior superintendent of police and other prominent officials were seen driving through the city since morning.

CITY PRESENTS DESERTED APPEARANCE.

All shops were closed and the city presented a deserted appearance. The Hindus closed their shops to observe a hartal while the Mahomedans temporarily closed to attend prayers and qurbani (sacrifice) and were expected to reopen in the afternoon. It is reported that about sixty cows were slaughtered between 10 a.m. and 12 noon to-day, compared with about 42 in the corresponding period of last year. The second qurbani begins at 6 a.m. to-morrow, when it is understood the cow for sacrifice will be led through the disputed route.—A. P.

DISAPPOINTMENT AT FAILURE.

REPORTED "MISUNDERSTANDING."

DELHI, July 1.

Much disappointment is felt among responsible members of both the communities at the failure of Hindu and Muslim members of the Municipal Committee at its emergent meeting this afternoon to agree to what was termed a very clever proposal made by a Muhammedan municipal councillor. The proposal aimed at obviating the use of the Pahari Dhiraj route and open a slaughter house at once in Bara Hindurao. Enquiries made in authoritative quarters and among prominent municipal councillors elicited the information that the rejection of the proposal was due to a misunderstanding on either side. It appears that at the very outset the president pointed out that the acceptance of the proposal to erect a temporary or permanent slaughter house in the neighbourhood would not induce Government to prohibit the disputed route but he believed that the proposal might induce Mussalmans not to use the disputed route inasmuch as the nearest route to the proposed slaughter house would not be the disputed route and that the Mussalmans would realise that they had been given a concession in the form of a slaughter house near them without relinquishing their rights to use the said route. With the exception of three or four Muslim members, all other members, it is said, were willing to support the proposal as they considered it to be a very wise move, but the attitude of the members who opposed gave them no guarantee that the Pahari Dhiraj route would not be used. In fact certain Muslim members of the Committee asserted that they should have the use of both the route and the new slaughter house. The Hindu members fearing that by agreeing to the proposal they would be setting a bad precedent and at the same time gain nothing, voted against the proposal which was rejected.

All the Municipal Commissioners who were invited admitted that they had made a serious mistake in rejecting the proposal but as matters stood at the time of the meeting they were under some misunderstanding and they had no other alternative. They said they did not blame anybody but themselves. They were all unanimous in complimenting the local officials who were immediately concerned especially Mr. Lincoln, Deputy Commissioner, for their many personal efforts to bring about a compromise. One of the senior councillors thought that the Deputy Commissioner had done everything he could and they could not expect more even if they had a nationalist official in his place.

TROOPS PASSING THROUGH CITY.

To-day a party of troops was seen passing through the city in lorries. This, it is understood, was only to impress on the public the fact that Government was determined to preserve peace and order at any cost. The soldiers have not been detailed for any patrol or picket duties. There is no doubt some uneasiness in the atmosphere.

GYM. "B" BEAT G. I. P. "B".

DULL GAME ON CO-OPERAGE

There was a poor attendance in the grands to witness the second division fixture betwen the Bombay Gym. "B" and the G. I. P. The game was a poor one and singularly devoid of thrills. The Gymkhana were the better team but after taking the lead in the first half they could do no better than miss by yards. Herd must have been very sick with him self after missing time and again from close range. His team work was good but nervousness seemed to rob him of finishing touches. Waud though rather clumsy did a lot of work on the wing.

TENNIS AT WIMBLEDON.

WIMBLEDON, July 2.

Men's semi-final day failed to attract such a huge crowd as yesterday.

Women were again in majority making the centre court arena of a kaleidoscopic colour.—Reuter's Special.

In the semi-final of ladies' doubles Mrs. Bridge and Mrs. Mollquham beat Mrs. Lambert Chambers and Miss Harvey 6/1, 0/6, 6/4.

Men's doubles, fourth round. Casey and Hennessey beat Britishers Crawford and Fisher 6/4, 4/6, 6/0, 6/1 and have entered semi-final.

In men's singles, semi-final Borotra beat Cochet 5/7, 8/6, 6/4, 6/1.—Reuter's Special.

LONDON, July 1.

In the fourth round of the Wimbledon tournament, Borotra and Lacoste beat the Britishers, Hunt and Berger, by 6/3, 6/3, 6/1, thus entering the semi-final.

In the same round the Itolo-Hungarian combination, De Morpurge and De Kehrling, beat Lycette and Anderson by 5/7, 5/7, 6/4, 6/3, 6/3. The winners meet Borotra and Lacoste in the semi-final.

The unaccountable downfall of the Australians caused a sensation. They went to pieces after the third set. It was largely the victory of De Morpurgo's brilliant service though both the Continental players fought every point very hard. Anderson developed an under-hitting tendency while Lycett was weak in volleying.

In the third round of men's doubles, Hennessey and Casey beat Barclay and Crole-Rees, 8/10, 6/3, 6/3, 6/4.

In mixed doubles, Borotra and Mlle. Lenglen entered the semi-final, defting Gilbert and McKane by 6/1, 6/2. In this match, which was played on the centre court, Borotra and Mlle. Lenglen were not extended. Borotra showed marvellous speed, and killed with terrific smashes at the net where it was almost impossible to pass him. He overshadowed Mlle. Lenglen. The holders were outplayed throughout.

19 year old Miss Fry made her first appearance in the centre court, to-day, and received an ovation. She took the first four games and kept fine length. Madame Billout netted and frequently double-faulted. The second set was characterised by good rallies, and Miss Fry led by three games to one, but Madam Billout squared at three all, and then by a series of amazing side-line drives took the set. Madame Billout in the third set played to Miss Fry's backhand in which the latter was very sound. Both, after that, concentrated on the baseline play. Miss Fry won by her superior speed. The Queen arrived at the start of the Lenglen-McKane match.

In the semi-finals of ladies' singles at Wimbledon, Mlle. Lenglen beat Miss McKane 6/0, 6/0, and Miss Fry beat Madame Billout 6/2, 4/6, 6/3.

The weather was glorious but hot. With two semi-finals between the English and French ladies to be decided, it was the ladies' day. The centre court was packed like sardines by 1-45 p.m. The queue had begun to collect since seven in the morning. It was brilliant scene of multicoloured parasols ad summary toilettes. Five shilling tickets were sold outside for thirty shillings.

Miss McKane only played as well as Mlle. Lenglen permitted her to do. She was outclassed and was often caught on the wrong foot. Mlle. Lenglen who wore a flame-coloured bandeau was at the height of her form and was the essence of grace. She played with greatest speed and agility and when she came up to the net, it was the signal of the end of a rally with spectacular kill.—Reuter's Special.

"THE HEDJAZ DEPUTATION."

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—In your issue of the 20th June last one Mr. A. M. Khan writing under the above heading talks glibly of the Hedjaz Deputation and their 'bona-fides' and asks the public to ignore them. The public can easily ignore Mr. A. M. Khan and his advice, but not the deputation, as is evident from the interviews that men of position have already sought and had. If he had enquired of the Jumma Masjid Committee before he rushed to print, he would have known that the members of the deputation were garlanded on behalf of the said Committee and there would have been no occasion for him to make a mis-statement and for me to contradict it. It is a known fact that members of the Khilafat Committee, at least many of them, do not see eye to eye with the deputation, but that has not prevented them from paying them their due respects. Mr. Khan as a self-appointed adviser asks the deputation 'not to take too much benefit of the indulgence allowed to them by the benign British Government.' Pray, what does it mean? Again, how should the deputation 'publicly announce their bona-fides'?—Yours, etc.,

SYED ABU YUSUF ASFAHANI.

The South African Indians.

What is the Imperial Citizenship Association doing? It has to its credit a series of well informed and carefully compiled booklets, and a deputation or two, to which the spokesmen of our Higher Bureaucracy gave soothing replies, but I would like to know what it has been doing in the direction of making the masses of this country acquainted with the steadily humiliating policy to which Indians in South Africa have been subjected? The process of humiliation has illustrated itself most non-chalantly in the recent act of practical negation of human rights. Repatriation will now proceed with greater vigour, because the poorer section of Indians in South Africa will be stampeded into the belief that the land of their adoption for more than a century or so in several cases has been made a Devil's land for them. Efforts will now be made to get at the richer class of Indians whose success offends the vision of the Whites and legislation will be hatched to subject them to ignominious treatment. The impression amongst our countrymen in South Africa is that the Government of India by its wobbling attitude has betrayed their interests. Our Moderate friends have never been tired of making spirited protests at Delhi and Simla. They ought now to take the lead in calling a representative conference of all shades of political thought and discuss measures of retaliation, which will open the eyes of South African Whites. India cannot hurt materially South African commercial interests in this country, because their extent is not great, but there is South African bounty fed coal. And why should India retain in its administrative services South African born whites, when the Indian is an eye-sore in Natal?

Your Back rns you

Any stubborn pain in the small of the back is good cause to suspect weak kidneys, for that is just where the kidneys are, the natural spot for kidney pains.

Heavy, throbbing backache and sharp twinges when you stoop, bend or give your back a sudden twist, tell you of inflamed kidneys; kidneys sore, overworked and tired.

The kidneys have enough to do when you are in good health to filter the blood free of uric acid poisons. Colds, fevers, overwork or excesses of any sort, congest and overwork the kidneys. Unless promptly relieved, what was at first a simple inflammation, will turn in time to gravel, dropsy, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, or some chronic form of kidney disease.

Suspect weak kidneys if the urine is disordered. Look also for head-aches, dizzy spells, constant tired feelings and nervousness.

Then if your kidneys are weak, use Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, the remedy that has been curing weak kidneys for over fifty years.

NEWS FROM SIMLA.

INDIAN SANDHURST COMMITTEE.

PUNJAB SWARAJISTS GAGGED.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, June 26.

The most important event of the week has been the announcement by the Government of India of the appointment of a Committee under the chairmanship of General Sir Andrew Skeen. This Committee will be asked to recommend measures to attract the best qualified Indian youths to a military career and give them suitable military education. Strictly speaking, the Committee owes its origin to a resolution moved by Mr. Venkatapathi Raju in the Legislative Assembly in February last. A battle royal was then waged between the non-officials and the Government over the demand for establishment of a well-qualified military college at a suitable centre on the lines of Sandhurst. Among the non-officials who supported the motion were Sir Sivaswami Iyer, the acknowledged Army Critic in India, and Mr. Jinnah, the leader of the Independent Party, and the resolution was carried in an amended form after a stirring speech by Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya. The Government attitude was very irresponsive on that occasion; indeed the Commander-in-Chief, the late Lord Rawlinson and his Army Secretary, Mr. Burdon, repeated parrot-like the inevitable arguments against any progress in India, namely caste, creed, language and communal differences, and what more, His Excellency declared that so long as His Majesty's Government are responsible for the defence of India, they must have the loud voice as to the method of training Indians as officers and the sole voice in deciding what the course of education should be given for boys who are to be trained to the King's Commissions in the Army. It was this speech of Lord Rawlinson that infuriated Mr. Jinnah and his friends, and Mr. Jinnah was compelled to deliver a severe indictment on the Government and warn them to be "honest and straightforward" in the matter of enabling India to defend herself. Though the motion was carried by a large majority, it was not until the detailed discussion on the budget in March that anything was known of the Government intentions in regard to the clearly expressed demand of the Indians for the appointment of a committee for Indian Sandhurst. In that budget discussion as well as good deal of warmth was exhibited by the non-official elected members and Sir Alexander Muddiman, on behalf of Government, was compelled to give an undertaking. Hence the announcement of the appointment of a committee under the chairmanship of Sir Andrew Skeen. The names of the members and the detailed terms of reference are not known. But judging from the language of the communique the Committee will consist of representatives of military and non-military classes of population. There is therefore some speculation as to the names of members who will constitute the committee, but I hear that Captain Hira Singh, Captain Aiab Khan and Colonel Crawford who participated in the debate in the Assembly although they were opposed to the motion, and Messrs. Jinnah and Venkatapathi Raju who warmly supported it are likely to be members, athough it is difficult to be assertive in regard to all the names I have mentioned. In any case it is hoped that Government do not ignore Sir Sivaswami Iyer, for to ignore him is to ignore light and leading on the subject from the non-official point of view.

PUNJAB COUNCIL AND LATE MR. DAS.

Another event which happened since I wrote last was the preliminary sitting of the special session of the Punjab Legislative Council when besides the formal presentation of the Select Committee's report on the Gurudwara Bill by Sardar Tara Singh, there were a few questions answered and speeches were made on the death of Mr. C. R. Das. It required indeed great courage on the part of the President Sheikh Abdul Qadir to have initiated the references to the passing away of the great son of India, but his courage did not unfortunately last long. It appears he had selected members to speak on the occasion but the Swaraj Party was excluded in this list. Two or three Swarajists stood up to speak after the President's nominees had had their say, but Sheikh Abdul Qadir without evenlooking around ordered the Secretary to send a message of condolence to Mrs. Das and resumed his seat, while all the time two Swarajists were on their legs, repeating the words, 'Sir, I want to associate". This purposeful ignoring of the Swaraj Party on the occasion of paying the last respects to the leader of the Swarajists in India cannot but be greatly deplored although one cannot help feeling admiration and respect for Sheikh Abdul Qadir when he himself initiated the reference. Another noticeable feature was that the speech made "on behalf of the official benches" by that arch die-hard Sir John Maynard consisted of nothing more than mummery of half a dozen words of conventional regret most indifferently uttered! Sheer necessity drove Sir John Maynard, the leader of the house, to perform that inconvenient task of associating the official benches with the expression of regret. But the President would have certainly shown greater courage if he had not practically gagged the members of the Swaraj Party of whom Professor Ruchiram Sahni was one. All the same, the tribute paid by the non-officials to the departed soul was genuine and full of feeling for the loss of one who was described as next to Mahatma Gandhi, the greatest ambassador of Hindu-Muslim unity, the one man who sacrificed his all for the cause he so ably espoused, and whom it is difficult to replace in the political life of India.

EXODUS TO SIMLA.

The problem of exodus to Simla is frequently engaging the attention of the Government of India now-a-days. The New Secretariat and Viceregal Lodge Buildings will be completed by the end of next year at Raisina. The question of locating the attached offices in Delhi from 1926 is therefore under consideration. As for the main branches of administration, it is stated that some of them will be permanently situated in Delhi all the year round and that the stay in Simla will from 1927 be reduced to three months in a year only the principal officers and their chief assistants being brought up to Simla. The position as regards the Army Headquarters which had been enjoying their habitation in Simla throughout the year since 1864 is however uncertain and it is probable that a good deal of opposition will be noticed from the officers in the Army Headquarters to their being removed to Delhi even for the winter. Any way, the value of house property in Simla has begun to fast depreciate and house-owners are negotiating for the sale of their property before the value further depreciates.

ECONOMIC COMITTEE'S REORT.

The report of the Economic Enquiry Committee which is in the course of preparation will be completed in a month's time and presented to the Government of India. It is fairly well-known that there has been no unanimity arrived at among the members on the recommendations to be made, and while Professor Burnett-Hurst is believed to be writing his own report, Sir M. Viswesvarayya, the President and his Indian Colleague Pandit Hari Kishan Kaul will write theirs, the latter probably appending a separate note explaining his views on certain aspects of the enquiry, particularly with regard to the agency to be adopted. Meanwhile the report has been received from Bangalore that the Taxation Committee is experiencing its own troubles in the way of a perfectly unanimous report. Sir Basil Blackett who arrived in Bombay from England yesterday is proceeding to Bangalore with a view to confer with Sir Charles Todhunter and his colleagues. The return of Sir Basil to Simla will therefore be delayed, although he has taken over charge of the Finance Membership from to-day by wire. Sir B. N. Mitra is from now the member for Industries and Labour and Mr. Ley is his Secretary.

REPRESENTATIVE INSTITUTIONS IN TRAVANCORE.

TRIVANDRDM, June 29.

At the first meeting of the Travancore Reformed Legislative Council, Mr. Watts, the new Dewan presiding, the following message from H. H. the Maharani Regent was read:—

"I send you my cordial greetings on the first meeting of the new Council. It is most unfortunate that my venerable uncle His Highness the late lamented Maharaja to whose outlook Regulation two of 1925 owes its being could not live to see the reformed Council developing with succeeding years in increasing its usefulness to the country but it is however gratifying to see that His Highness lived to satisfy himself that the momentuous measure was fully justifying hopes. The late reign witnessed many reforms, but none surpasses in boldness of conception, breadth of vision and statesmanship, the provisions of this regulation which is a living monument of His Highness's selfless devotion to the best interests of the country. I have watched with great pleasure the keen interest displayed by the people in working of the Council and trust that you will continue to be a source of strength and help to my Government. With my heartfelt good wishes iI now leave you to your deliberations".

The Deputy President on behalf of the House thanked Her Highness the Maharani Regent. The Dewan promised to convey the same to her.

KHANDWA NOTES.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

KHANDWA, June 26.

A meeting of the citizens of Central India and Marwar was held to express their deep sorrow at the death of the late Maharaja Gwalior. One resolution asking the Maharaja of Alwar to appoint a committee to enquire into the Nemuchhana shooting was passed. The meeting also urged upon the Maharani and Rajkumar of Udaipur to release Mr B. S. Pathik.

The people of Khandwa were stunned to hear the news of the sudden demise of Shreejut Das. A condolence meeting was held.

There is great excitement about the election of President of the local Municipality. The Muslims want a Mohammadan, while there is Hindus majority.

The sub-divisional magistrate have issued an order under Section 144 prohibiting all persons on keeping a lathi or stick from 1st to 10th July to avert some possible outrage at the time of Id festival.

SIDELIGHTS ON LIFE AND THOUGHT

The following is a selection from th Americans feature of the "American Mercury" for June:—

BARGAIN PRICES IN MEDICAL TREATMENT.

Announcement of a favourite physician of Cleveland county (Arkansas), as reported by the "Journal of the American Medical Association":—

NOTICE.

To the Public:

The reason I have hitherto been able to practice medicine so much cheaper than the other doctors did was because I em widower and have no children to support.

It's now my duty to inform the public that this advantage will shortly be withdrawn. You will therefore do well to send in your choice cases at once for the old rate.

Office at Prof. Tisdale's home. East Fourth Street, Rison Ark.—Fraternally,

Dr. J. L. Cooper.

GAS METERS AND DIVORCE.

Current news item under a Minneapolis date line:—

Mrs. Minnie Peterson had obtained divorce, the case going by default.

"Do you want your maiden name back?" asked Judge Guilford.

Mrs. Peterson hesitated a moment and replied:—

"I'd like it, but I don't think I had better do it. The gas meter is in the name of Peterson, and I had better keep it that way."

RADIOMANIA.

What happens when the vices of Babylon penetrate to the open spaces, as disclosed by a Winkelman (Arizona) dispatch:—

Over devotion to the radio is said to have been a contributing cause for the suicide of Russell Baker, who tied a heavy iron bar to his neck and then jumped into a deep pool. He is said to have become a nervous wreck through loss of sleep. At his work he talked incessantly of the radio, and apparently forgot his wife and three small children.

SPEEDING THE PARTING GUEST.

From a prayer by the Rev. Frederick Arthur Ewert, State chaplain of the American Legion in Illinois:—

And, O Lord, if there be any in this country of ours who do not like it, than, O Lord, we do not want them here and we pray Thee that Thou to Thy divine way will provide them with the means of getting out of it

THOSE HEATHENS.

Bitter protest from the learned and discriminating editorial writer of the "Lookout Magazine of Christian Education," of Cincinnati:—

Every college in America is teaching heathenism by having in its curriculum Tacitus, Virgil, Homer, Sophocles, Euripides, Aeschylus, Plato, and Aristotle. The minute you suggest using the writings of Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Paul Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, or any of the rest of this noble group, the educational nostrils elevate to the ninetieth degree of altitude. Yet the Christians of America are paying taxes and contributing the money that keep college doors open.

HOOT OWLS ON THE WIRELESS.

Scientific progress in Portland (Oregon), as reported in the local papers:—

Plays, opera, and even circus programs have been broadcast by radio. But the Order of Hoot Owls, conducting regular meetings from station KGW here claims to be the first lodge in the world to conduct its ritualistic work over the ether waves.

A CONFESSION.

Sad note in the enterprising Yakima (Washington) "Republic":—

We are not very enthusiastic about ex-Vice President Tom Marshall's scheme to repeal all the Prohibition laws and substitute the Ten Commandments for them. The Commandments are as good as they ever were, but it is a fact which should not be overlooked that a great many people in Ellensburg, Seattle, Pasco, and elsewhere are so ornery that complete enforcement of them seems to be impossible. We don't believe it would help any at all to put them on the statute books.

WOMEN'S HEALTH & EDUCATION SOCIETY.

The first Annual Report of this Society of Shikarpur, Sind, shows that it is doing good work though started only twelve months ago. The institution owes its existence to the munificent gift of Rs. 1,00,000 by Seth Sitaldas Tirathdas coupled with an annual grant of Rs. 1,200 for the first five years and to the self-sacrificing zeal of Prof. S. M. Pherwani, M.A., the organiser and Secretary of the Society It is now conducting a Maternity Home and a Secondary School for girls. The Home has thirteen beds, and delivery cases are being attended to free of all charges those conducted outside being charged a nominal fee. During the twelve months ending May 1925 more than 300 deliveries were conducted at the Home but there was not a single fatality. The Society has also started a Health Association which arranges lectures and distributes pamphlets on the care of health. A dai'e training class has also been organised to train dais both for the Home and the public. These and other manysided activities are rendered possible by the honorary services of several local doctors, the Municipality giving the Society only Rs. 600 per year.

The secondary school for girls conducted by the Society is the first of its kind in Upper Sind with a population of 18 lakhs. It has at present five classes with about 40 pupils and a sewing and cutting class open to elderly females also. In addition to the usual subjects elementary instruction is given in Hygiene, Maternity, Infant Welfare and Domestic Economy. An interesting feature of the school is that promotion is by subjects, not classes. Efficiency is maintained in spite of limited resources, as three teachers are honorary workers under the guidance of an educationist like Prof. Pherwani. In short the Society is doing very useful and almost pioneering work in Upper Sind and deserves full support from Government, Local Bodies and the public.

BOHRAS AND WAKF ACT.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Yesterday's meeting of the Bohra has vividly demonstrated the fact that our communal interests are at the mercy of the Mullaji Saheb and his party consisting of Messrs. Barodawalla, Bandukwalla and their limited company. Before a packed house presided over by a lieutenant of the Mullaji Saheb's oligarchy, these gentlemen without caring to observe the proper procedure of conducting business of a public meeting put forward certain resolution to be supported by men chosen previously from their own ranks and carried them as passed without giving anybody a chance for a free speech. In these circumstances, it is but natural that no dissentient voice could be heard before a packed and hostile audience? In this connection I beg to invite attention of the public through your paper to the fact that the notice of the meeting as circulated by hand-bills in Gujarati among the Bohras was quite different from that which appeared in the English papers and this difference, I submit, is greatly responsible for the apparent unanimity of opinion that prevailed in the audience of the meeting. This notice requested the attendance of only those Bohras who believed the Mullaji Saheb as Daiul-mutlaq, thus excluding deliberately the attendance of those who did not believe him to be so or who do not consider such a belief as a watchward for depreration of the rights that are permissible to them under Islam. Any dissentient, therefore, was sure to be howled down as an opponent of the Mullaji Saheb and thus as an enemy of the community.

It is significant to add here that Mr. Barodawalla in opening the business of the meeting declared that the President and vice-President had both been appointed by the Mullaji Saheb, and in this he asked concurrence of the audience to which of course they replied in the affirmative. The presidents having thus been put in the chair by nomination of the Mullaji Saheb and not by election of the audience, it will be easy to see that the business of the meeting was carried through by autocrats on autocratic principles under the cover of democratic constitution.—Yours, etc.,

BOMBAY POLICE SCANDALS

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The news about the dismissal of three officers of the Police department has very well been received by the people of Bombay. One of the dismissed officers was drawing Rs. 650 as his salary plus Rs. 125 as carriage allowance, in addition to a palatial building to live in. If such high officers, getting fat salaries, feel the necessity of exploring avenues for extra income the condition of the low-born can very well be imagined. However, I cannot help praising the Commissioner of Police for his bold action in dismissing these promoters of the cause of gambling, and I, therefore, offer him thanks in the name of the public of Bombay who seem to be quite satisfied with his firm decision.

I am informed that the immediate effect of these dismissals has been very wholesome, and it is that the satta shops have all of a sudden, as if by magic, dwindled into a very small number. Another drastic action of this nature and the number will still go down. But what about the gambling houses which abound in the city? I think the Police Commissioner must be knowing who the leaders are of these dens. They should all be closed—and closed for good—if the beautiful city of Bombay is to be purged of undesirable persons. One way of doing away with these dens is to encourage respectable citizens residing in various wards to come to high officials and give information in full confidence that their names will remain dead secret. Let me point out here that at present respectable citizens are afraid of going to the Police stations for various reasons, but when once they are assured that they will be treated nicely and listened to, they will certainly come forward and help the Police.

In this connection may I ask the Police Commissioner to remove certain other evils which, unfortunately, are on the increase in Bombay. A large number of the rank and file of the Police are, according to the popular version, more a curse than a blessing for the petty shopkeepers and hawkers, since money is extorted from them in different ways from morn till evening day after day. The constables happen to be so charitable as to be satisfied even with a pice or two, and those who fail to part with the filthy lucre at their behest are mercilessly dragged to the Police station—for no fault of theirs. The petty shop-keepers and hawkers should be made immune from the attacks of the Police constables as early as possible.

As is clear from newspaper reports, crime in general is increasing day by day. This has produced a feeling of insecurity which is unworthy of a great city like Bombay. The thieves, pick-pockets, receivers of stolen property—and I am told that a system exists by which stolen property is distributed in no time—all these take refuge in the satta dens and gambling houses where the visitors mostly consist of ruffians and the scum of society. And they are the people who are responsible for murders, thefts and other black deeds generally perpetuated during the night. If the places of their refuge are done away with by the Police Commissioner crime in Bombay will be greatly reduced.

The present Police Commissioner has shown by his recent action that he is made of sterner stuff than his predecessors and that he is quite capable of removing most of the evil customs that have come to be associated with the name of the Police. Will he make the soil of Bombay hot for the badmashes and other bad characters by keeping a vigilant eye as he has done now? I hope that he will.

In conclusion I again thank the Police Commissioner for his courageous and strong action and I assure him that the public of Bombay greatly appreciate his sincere motives.—Yours, etc.,

"LQIUOR SHOP IN GIRGAUM."

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—On the 17th instant Mr. B. N. Motivala presided over a meeting of the residents of Girgaum "to protest against the action of the Collector of Bombay in permitting to open liquor shop in the vicinity of boys' and girls' schools." The meeting passed certain resolutions urging the authorities to abolish the liquor shop and take notice of the action of the Collector of Bombay for contravening "the declared policy of the Government in relation to the excise administration of this presidency." I wonder if Mr. B. N. Motivala and "the residents of Girgaum"—it would be interesting to know how many of them attended the meeting—paused to know the actual facts before indulging their fancy for public meetings. They ought to have known that the liquor shop in question has been in existence for the last 30 years without any of the residents of Girgaum feeling annoyed by the vesper revelries of thirsty souls. It is amazing how the annoyance came to be felt by "the residents of Girgaum" so suddenly and without the least provocation. The only provocation that I can make out is the action of the Collector in permitting the present proprietor of the shop to shift it about 22 feet further off on the same side of the road. I can't make out how this action of the Collector is in contravention of the Bombay Government's declared excise policy. The resolution states that as the liquor shop is in the vicinity of the boys' and girls' schools, it is objectionable and the license ought to be cancelled. Has it not been in the locality for over 30 years, and does its removal by about 22 feet make all the difference? And what about the existence of houses of prostitutes round about the area and just opposite the liquor shop in front of the Municipal and other schools for boys and girls and in the very midst of the highly respectable locality! Have residents of Girgaum no objection to them? Have our over-enthusiastic city-fathers of the type of Mr. Motivala exhausted the list of liquor shops in the vicinity of boys' and girls' schools? Shall I draw Mr. Motivala's attention to the liquor shops in the "vicinity" of Municipal Marathi Boys' and Girls' Schools at Chickalwady? Has Mr. Motivala made any public complaint on behalf of the residents of Bombay against the frequency of water-main bursts and consequent water famines? One wonders how the shop becomes a public nuisance all on a sudden because it shifts a few paces further and to a locality where the residents would welcome it or at any rate would not feel annoyed by it? One could see the point if the agitation had been for the total abolition of liquor shops in Bombay or at least in the heart of the city, as I myself stand for prohibition. But instead of doing that, why carry agitation against a particular shop or rather an individual who has licensed the concern and seek to victimize him?—Yours etc.,
